CONTENTS

	PAGE
THE ORGANIZATION OF AIRPORT CONSTRUCTION." E. A. Palmer (with discussion)	1
SOME DESIGNS FOR FLEXIBLE FENDERS." D. H. Little (with oral discussion)	42
SOME MAJOR PROBLEMS IN RAILWAY CIVIL ENGINEERING MAINTENANCE." A. H. Cantrell (with oral discussion)	106
THE PERFORMANCE OF SOME ASPHALT AND COATED-MACADAM MIXING PLANT." D. B. Waters	145
AERODROME RUNWAY CONSTRUCTION IN NIGERIA." Alexander McDonald	170
SEA DEFENCE WORK AT SILLOTH, CUMBERLAND." G. O. Lockwood	188
POST-WAR COAST PROTECTION WORKS ALONG THE SOUTH-EAST COAST OF ENGLAND, WHICH HAVE BEEN UNDERTAKEN BY THE KENT RIVER BOARD AS PART OF THEIR FUNCTIONS IN CONNEXION WITH LAND DRAINAGE." G. Cubley Crowther	196
Correspondence on Road Paper No. 37 (Gifford)	209
SOIL STABILITY PROBLEMS IN ROAD ENGINEERING." Rudolph Glossop and G. C. Wilson (with oral and written discussion)	219
THE RECONCILIATION OF CIVIL ENGINEERING PROBLEMS WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS IN THE SITING AND PLANNING OF AIRPORTS." A. Shaw Maclaren (with oral and written discussion)	281
THE RECONSTRUCTION OF GREENWELL'S NO. 1 DRY DOCK AND ANCILLARY WORKS AT SUNDERLAND." Harry Ridehalgh (with oral and written discussion)	321
THE DESIGN OF STRUCTURES IN RELATION TO MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION." Frank Turton and N. S. Cox (with oral discussion)	365
SOME AIDS TO TRAFFIC FLOW." R. A. B. Smith (with discussion)	416
METHODS OF SOIL STABILIZATION AND THEIR APPLICATION TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF AIRFIELD PAVEMENTS." D. L. Maclean and P. J. M. Robinson (with oral discussion)	447
POST-WAR COAST PROTECTION WORKS AT FLEETWOOD, LANCASHIRE, 1946-1950." William Melville	503
COAST PROTECTION: SOME RECENT WORKS ON THE EAST COAST, 1942-1952." Jack Duvivier	510
Correspondence on Maritime Paper No. 21 (Little)	532
Correspondence on Railway Paper No. 47 (Cantrell)	545

	PAGE
"PORT OF LONDON AUTHORITY ENGINEERING WORKS, 1952." G. A. Wilson (with discussion)	551
"THE TREND OF DEVELOPMENT IN THE DESIGN AND EQUIPMENT OF UNDER- GROUND RAILWAYS." D. H. Coombs and G. J. Willson (with discussion) .	605
"FACTORS AFFECTING THE RIDING QUALITY OF MACHINE-LAID CONCRETE ROADS." R. H. H. Kirkham (with discussion)	656
"THE RECONSTRUCTION OF FRENCH RAILWAYS." René Miot (Summary of Lecture)	710
"THE DESIGN OF MOTORWAYS." T. E. Hutton (with discussion and corres- pondence)	711
"THE DESIGN AND EQUIPMENT OF MODERN MARSHALLING YARDS." R. E. Sadler (with discussion and correspondence)	755
"ECHO SOUNDING IN RELATION TO MODERN HARBOUR AND COASTAL SURVEYS." Commander D. H. Macmillan (Summary of Lecture)	807
Correspondence on Paper No. 5897 (Crowther)	813
Correspondence on Railway Paper No. 48 (Cox)	816
Correspondence on Airport Paper No. 23 (Maclean and Robinson)	819
Personnel of Engineering Divisional Boards for Session 1953-54	822

SUBJECT INDEX

FOR

Proceedings, Part II, Vol. 2, 1953.

February, June, and October, 1953.

Airports:

Construction.—The Organization of Airport Construction, E. A. Palmer. 1 (Feb.); Discussion, 31 (Feb.).

Planning.—The Reconciliation of Civil Engineering Problems with International Standards in the Siting and Planning of Airports, A. Shaw Maclaren. 281 (June); Discussion, 303 (June); Correspondence, 318 (June).

Runways and Pavements.—See Soil Mechanics, Strengthening of Soils.

Nigeria.—Aerodrome Runway Construction in Nigeria, Alexander McDonald. 170 (Feb.).

Coast Works:

Cumberland.—Sea Defence Work at Silloth, Cumberland, G. O. Lockwood. 188 (Feb.).

Kent.—Post-war Protection Works along the South-East Coast of England, which have been Undertaken by the Kent River Board as Part of their Functions in Connexion with Land Drainage, G. Cubley Crowther. 196 (Feb.); Correspondence, 813 (Oct.); Corrigendum, 549 (June).

Lancashire.—Post-war Coast Protection Works at Fleetwood, Lancashire, 1946-50, William Melville. 503 (June).

Lincolnshire, Norfolk, and Suffolk.—Coast Protection: Some Recent Works on the East Coast, 1942-52, Jack Duvivier. 510 (June).

Docks:

Dry Docks.—The Reconstruction of Greenwell's No. 1 Dry Dock and Ancillary Works at Sunderland, Harry Ridehalgh. 321 (June); Discussion, 341 (June); Correspondence, 359 (June).

Embankments.—See Soil Mechanics, Roads.

Erosion.—See Coast Works.

Fenders:

Flexible.—Some Designs for Flexible Fenders, D. H. Little. 42 (Feb.); Discussion, 82 (Feb.); Correspondence, 532 (June); Corrigendum, 549 (June).

Harbours and Ports:

London.—Port of London Authority Engineering Works, 1952, G. A. Wilson. 551 (Oct.); Discussion, 586 (Oct.).

Landslips.—See Soil Mechanics, Roads.

Railways:

- Maintenance.—Some Major Problems in Railway Civil Engineering Maintenance, A. H. Cantrell. 106 (Feb.); Discussion, 127 (Feb.); Correspondence, 545 (June).
The Design of Structures in Relation to Maintenance and Inspection. (Part I, "Bridges," by Frank Turton; Part II, "Structures other than Bridges," by N. S. Cox.) 365 (June); Discussion, 393 (June); Correspondence, 816 (Oct.).
Marshalling Yards.—The Design and Equipment of Modern Marshalling Yards, R. E. Sadler. 755 (Oct.); Discussion, 788 (Oct.); Correspondence, 800 (Oct.).
Underground.—The Trend of Development in the Design and Equipment of Underground Railways, D. H. Coombs and G. J. Willson. 605 (Oct.); Discussion, 641 (Oct.).

France.—(Film commentary.) The Reconstruction of French Railways (abs.), René Miot. 710 (Oct.).

Roads:

- Constructional Plant.—The Performance of Some Asphalt and Coated-Macadam Mixing Plant, D. B. Waters. 145 (Feb.).
Design.—The Design of Motorways, T. E. Hutton. 711 (Oct.); Discussion, 737 (Oct.); Correspondence, 753 (Oct.).
Surfaces.—Factors Affecting the Riding Quality of Machine-Laid Concrete Roads, R. H. H. Kirkham. 656 (Oct.); Discussion, 696 (Oct.).
See also supra, Constructional Plant.
Traffic.—Some Aids to Traffic Flow, R. A. B. Smith. 416 (June); Discussion, 429 (June).

Sea Defence Works.—See Coast Works.

Soil Mechanics:

- Roads.—Soil Stability Problems in Road Engineering, Rudolph Glossop and G. C. Wilson. 219 (June); Discussion, 254 (June); Correspondence, 272 (June).
Strengthening of Soils.—Methods of Soil Stabilization and their Application to the Construction of Airfield Pavements, D. J. Maclean and P. J. M. Robinson. 447 (June); Discussion, 487 (June); Correspondence, 819 (Oct.).

Surveying and Levelling:

- Marine.—(Lecture.) Echo Sounding in Relation to Modern Harbour and Coastal Surveys (abs.), D. H. Macmillan. 807 (Oct.).

The first of these is the fact that the British Empire is not a homogeneous entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The second point is that the Empire is not a static entity. It is constantly evolving, and its boundaries are constantly shifting. The third point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The fourth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The fifth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The sixth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The seventh point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The eighth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The ninth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The tenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The eleventh point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The twelfth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The thirteenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The fourteenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The fifteenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The sixteenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.

The seventeenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges. The eighteenth point is that the Empire is not a monolithic entity. It is a collection of many different peoples, each with its own history, culture, and language. This diversity is one of the strengths of the Empire, but it also presents challenges.
